GREATNESS OF

Management Now Has Proposition on Substantial Earning Basis.

NEW MILL DOES FINE WORK

BIG EARNINGS POSSIBLE ON 15-CENT METAL.

The Utah Copper company is now on substantial earning basis and Genera Manager D. C. Jackling states that the inability of the railroad company to giv the big milling works at Garfield more ore is all that is holding him back from doing much more than he is at present The company's mill at Bingham is now treating ore at the rate of 22,000 to 23,000 tons a month and the four sections of the 6.000 tons per day plant at Garfield are running along at close to their capacity though to do so it has been occasionally necessary to draw on the reserve bin a the mill. The mine is now in shape for the handling of a bigger tonnage than the combined capacity of the Bingham and Garfield plants and were it possible to get the ore seven instead of four sec-tions of the Garfield mill might be run-

What New Mill Is Doing.

Asked what kind of work the new plan was doing. Manager Jackling referred to the assay sheets covering the first elever days of this month as the latest available data on that point. They showed that the average contents of the rock treated was average contents of the rock treated was 1.91 per cent copper, while the tailings assayed only .55 per cent copper per ton. A little figuring showed that the average recovery from the crude ore was a little over 71 per cent.

"The ore we are now treating," explained Mr. Jackling, "is being mined by steam shoveis and the material directly under the capping carries quite a percentage of oxidized stuff from which it is impossible to make a close saving. The mill is doing most satisfactory work and mill is doing most satisfactory work and when we get around to mining the straigh sulphide material, such as we have all the way down from a short distance under the capping. I am certain that the recovery will average close to, if it doe not exceed, 80 per cent of the gross con tents of the ore.

Metal Market and Production.

Mr. Jackling does not believe that cop Mr. Jackling does not believe that copper is going down to 15 cents per pound. It might touch that price, he says, but he has no idea that it can long remain there. But even if it did, he says the Utah Copper company, with adequate transportation facilities for its mine product, and that it will have, can and will loss Gold.

A statement of this kind coming at this time from Manager Jackling should place at rest any fear that shareholders in the at rest any fear that snareholders in the Utah Copper company may be entertaining as a result of the big slump in the copper share market and the general trend of the metal market, as indicated in the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market, as indicated in the content of the metal market. ing from the eastern market centers. Jackling does not expect to see the Utah Copper company or any of the west-ern copper producers equal the record for production of the red metal made y the Utah Consolidated company, name-r, 5 cents a pound, but he does expect to see the Utah Copper company produce the metal for about 7 cents a pound.

Great Earning Capacity.

Granting that the company will, during the coming year, at any rate, be handling 7,000 tons of ore a day in its two mills, and granting that it will be recovering an average of thirty-six pounds.

Allowing the extravagant sum of $129,200 per month for operating expenses, the company would be making $400,000 per month or $4,800,000. net, per annum, or at the rate of $8 per share on its 600,000 shares of capitalization, On a 15-cent copper market, should it come to that, such earnings ought to be good enough for any-body, particularly when it is known that the company has this minute more than 40,000,000 tons of ore blocked out, and with certainty that the amount will double

From this little illustration of what the company has ahead of it there would appear to be little for the shareholders to

KANSAS CITY OPERATOR LIKES BEAVER COUNTY

A. W. Mente, a Kansas City operator who is heavily interested in Idaho and Utah mining propositions, is in the city for a few days after a two weeks' roundup of the Beaver county camps. He ex-presses himself as highly pleased with everything he saw in the southern counbut he is dissatisfied with the name try, but he is dissatisfied with the name of the county. Beaver, he contends, is altogether suggestive of water and plenty of it, while he found that the county was a pretty dry one, particularly in the mining sections.

Mr. Mente has become interested in the Sun company and other propositions in the Pine Grove district, and he returns from a study of conditions there very much elated. He declares that the surface showings of mineral are not excelled in any camp that he ever-saw and now that he has gone over the district and has seen what the different companies are doing and what development work is revealing he is read to the

The local mining stock market yesterday was feverish and unsteady, but trading was even heavier than on the day previous. During the two regular and open board calls a total of 90,290 shares of stock, with a selling value of $108,468, changed hands. The bears jumped on to Beck Tunnel and forced the price down from $2.50 at the opening to $2.17½. Strong support was given the stock at this point and, while it was held close around $2.25 to $2.27½ for most of the day, it was commanding $2.32½ at the close. Lower Mammoth, Uncle Sam, May Day, Crown Point and some of the others got their bumps during the day and, while there was an occasional rally, the whole trend of the market was toward a lower level, Following is the list of final quotations

Boston, Aug. 15.—The whole market was almost in a state of panic at the opening, but big interests gave support for the first time and slopped the decline. The fluctuations were very erratted and processes allies are preferable and processes. and forced selling was noticeable all through the list. The condition of the market tonight is better than it has been for weeks, but it is impossible to have any sharp rally yet as there are too many weak accounts to be cleared up and mon-ey is too tight. We advise purchases only on breaks and only for cash at that, day night, accompanied by Mrs. Walker, to remain several days.

During the past several months Mr. Walker has been almost constantly in the mining field sizing up conditions and reporting the results of his investigations through his paper. He has been from Arizona to British Columbia and clear through to the coast, where he has sized up the Balaklala and other mines, taking in Yerington and Ely on his way back. He is now going to spend a few days at Bingham and possibly may take a turn at Park City as well before continuing on home.

The visitor expresses himself as well pleased with what he has seen in the west so far and he also contends that, while there is a great deal going on in various camps that will eventually tend to larges by increase the eventually tend to larges.

there is a great deal going on in various camps that will eventually tend to largely increase the output of copper, nothing has happened to materially add to the output this year as compared with the production of 1806. Mr. Walker is an optimist on the outlook for mining in general and the copper mining industry in particular and he does not believe that the present shaky condition of the markets will long endure.
